Beall Elected President

Dr. Paul R. Beall, of Annapolis, Maryland, educator and nationally-known management consultant to aerospace industries, has been elected president of Oglethorpe University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Election of Dr. Beall by the Oglethorpe board of trustees was announced by Virgil W. Milton, board chairman.

He succeeds Dr. Donald Agnew, who resigned in February to head a major foundation project in college and secondary school education.

Dr. Beall assumed his duties as president of the 49-year-old institution October 1. In the interim Dean George C. Seward has served as acting president.

Mr. Milton said a special committee of trustees and faculty members has spent the last six months searching for a new Oglethorpe president.

"We have interviewed a number of persons," Mr. Milton said. "We are confident that we have found exactly the right man. He will lead Oglethorpe through an important expansion program that will include a number of new buildings and an increase in the student body from its present 450 to approximately 1,000."

Dr. Beall is a native of Des Moines, Iowa. He was graduated from Grinnell College in 1932 with an AB degree in economics. He studied law at Harvard University in 1935-36, and received an MA degree in speech and speech science from the University of Michigan in 1940.

He received a Ph.D. in speech and English from Pennsylvania State University in 1948.

He taught speech and English at the University of Michigan 1939-41 and at Pennsylvania State University 1941-50.

In 1950, Dr. Beall became director of information for the Research and Development Board of the Defense Department, Washington, D. C., and in 1952 served as scientific advisor to the commanding general of Air Research and Development Command of the U. S. Air Force in Baltimore. On a number of other occasions he has served as scientific advisor to various air force commands in this country and abroad.

He was advisor to the original faculty group that established the U. S. Air Force Academy.

Since 1960 Dr. Beall has served as management consultant on oral and written presentations for numerous firms in the aerospace industry.

His current clients include Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, the Martin-Marietta Company, Westinghouse Electric Corporation, the General Precision Company and the Allison Division of General Motors.

He is a past president of the National Conference on Administration of Research, a member of several professional societies and of the Cosmos Club, Washington, D. C.

"I am enthusiastic about the challenge and the opportunity at Oglethorpe," said Dr. Beall. "Both industry and education have learned that the most important need for young people today is to learn how to live a good life—not merely how to make a good living. Oglethorpe has pioneered in this field, and its contributions are now being recognized throughout the educational world." He said the first steps in the expansion of the college will be the building of a new library, a new science building and two dormitories in order to provide facilities for a student body approximately twice as large as the present one.

AAUW Take Advantage of Your Advantages

As a reminder, Oglethorpe University's women graduates are now eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women.

This organization was founded to increase educational opportunities for women and to enlarge the fields where these women could put their training to use. Today with over 155,000 members and 1500 branches in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Guam, they still pursue their original purpose. Because of their number and work, they speak representatively for the American woman university or college graduate.

For further information concerning this organization, Atlanta residents should contact Mrs. J. F. Anderson, 6533 Cherrytree Lane, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia. Alumae residing out of Atlanta and out of state should contact their area representative.

The President's Corner

Mainstream of American Education

"The woods are lovely, dark, and deep, but I have promises to keep, and miles to go before I sleep."

Robert Frost Wrote . . .

School spirit is something that can make a difference in the life of an education institution. Through the years, Oglethorpe University has maintained an active "school spirit."

In more recent years, Coach Pinholster and former Booster Club President Steve Schmidt has built upon Oglethorpe's "school spirit" of the 20's and 30's. Renewed interest in athletics and college financial support has been a direct result of their efforts. All alumni should be appreciative to them for their endeavor in building "school spirit" among students and alumni.

Our school spirit must continue to carry over into all phases of the life of the college. Alumni are to be congratulated upon responding to a call for financial support last year by the greatest number of individual contributions in a number of years. This is an indication of continuing "school spirit."

Oglethorpe University has earned a place at the "top of the ladder" in academic achievement. We have risen to the peak in athletics among the small colleges. We will continue to have success as long as Oglethorpe Alumni continue their "school spirit."

We have "miles to go before . . . sleep" in building a college second to none. The mainstream of American Education is a strong and vital force in world leadership. We have "promises to keep." Let us all strive for excellence in education. Our "school spirit for Oglethorpe can do much for contributing to a better world of tomorrow through developing leaders in all fields to meet the promises made to a changing complex world. Your "school spirit" is vital! We need more of it!

A Summary of Alumni Giving Since 1956

YEAR	AMOUNT (including in-kind gifts)	NUMBER OF KNOWN ALUMNI
1955-56	$433.00	—
1956-58	$1,576.00	—
1957-58	$3,015.00	—
1958-59	$5,298.00	—
1959-60	$7,420.00	—
1960-61*	$24,977.00 (683 donors: 1 large gift)	3100
1961-62* #	$28,780.00 (976 donors: 2 large gifts plus 1 auto)	3420
1962-63 #	$24,352.00 (760 donors: auto)	4079
1963-64	$22,099.00 (913 donors)	4100
1964-65	—	4230

*In these two years, large donations were contributed but due to circumstances of the individuals involved the donations were not repeated in subsequent years.

#In these two years automobiles were donated to the college by alumni which increased the in-kind gift total for the year.

In 1960 the pledge envelope system was introduced in the alumni giving campaign and as evidenced by the increase in the amount donated certainly warrants its continued use. This system replaces the dues idea which was a limiting element in the amount of contributions which could be expected to the college.

In 1963 a concentrated effort was made to locate the alumni who for one reason or other had become "lost". As a result of this, the alumni mailing list has been increased by about 1000 new names.

1963-64. Although the total donated to the college was not as much as the previous three years, (see * and # above and excluding the large gifts) more was contributed by the alumni than ever before.

New Faculty Appointments

Why Oglethorpe

A few days ago while trying to catch my breath after a game of "pitch" with my five year old, I asked him, what, in addition to a fireman and bulldozer operator, he wanted to be when he grew up. His reply was that he wanted to be a doctor. While contemplating this reply many things came to mind. Among other things I thought of where he should get the training for such a career. It took no budding genius to think of Oglethorpe as the place for pre-medical training. But then, I asked myself, 'why Oglethorpe'? There are as many answers to this question as there are alumni. I personally feel that the type of education offered there cannot be equalled anywhere. This is so because few institutions attempt to give the student the all round approach found there. And moreover, few institutions can give it because most do not have the intent, the academic freedom or the overall atmosphere to allow it. Something else too—they do not have an Abbott, a Cressy, a Goslin or a Seward to provide it to the students.

As my thoughts rambled on, I wondered if there would be an Oglethorpe for my son to attend when he became a young man. I came to the conclusion that there may not be unless its challenges and needs on all fronts are thoroughly met. I know the faculty and administration will meet their challenges if they are given the tools to do so. One of these tools is staunch financial support from alumni and friends. I know we, her alumni, can and will meet our part of the need if we will stop to think what the word Oglethorpe means to us.

I pledge to meet part of our challenge to preserve the "Oglethorpe Idea"! Will you do likewise when the opportunity is presented in the very near future?

Oglethorpe Sports

Oglethorpe University sports began in full swing as October ushered in Autumn. Soccer took the headline as the 1964-65 opening competitive sport and basketball practice officially began on October 15.

In soccer, Coach Billy Carter has organized what is expected to be his finest team in the four years of the sport's existence. Returning eight lettermen from last season's 1-7-2 record, the Stormy Petrels were able to assemble 23 men for the total squad, a fact that Coach Carter finds comforting.

"Until this year," Carter emphasized, "we only had 12 or 13 men report for soccer, and it was difficult forming a representative team. But with 23 men, we have ample substitutes and the team has been greatly strengthened. Too, having eight men back from last year gives us a pretty good core to work with."

The returnees are Roy Cowart, Ed Daffin, Jack Grubb, Ben Hargrove, Jeff Hayden, Andy Holland, Tim Marx, Pete Outhwaite, Robert Richards and Glen Rose.

Oglethorpe's soccer opponents are among the finest in the South and include Emory University, Emory-at-Oxford, Belmont Abbey, Berry, St. Bernard, Furman University and Davidson. With the exception of Davidson, Furman and Belmont Abbey, the Petrels were to meet each team twice.

In the season's first two games, Oglethorpe fell in defeat—a 2-1 margin by St. Bernard and an 8-0 blanking by Davidson.

"From the first two games it may sound as though we're in for a rough time," Carter explained. "But those are two of the toughest teams we'll face. We feel certain we'll be able to win four or five this year."

Hargrove, a baseball veteran, is in his fourth year as a soccer regular and serves as captain and spiritual leader of the Petrels. A center-forward, he scored O.U.'s only points in the first two games.

The addition of two foreign students, both formally exposed to soccer in their native lands, has boosted the power of the team. Miguel Rivarola, who plays wing, is from Paraguay, and Michael Streicher, also a wing, hails from Germany.

In basketball, Coach Garland Pinholster faces the 1964-65 season with only five men back from last year, but the new faces add a sparkle that could turn into a highly successful glow.

Back are guard Ray Thomas, who is the pulse-beat of the club, guard Bill Garrigan, center Walker Heard, center Jimbo Hartlage, and forward Billy Parker. All have seen extensive service and are well-versed in the Oglethorpe system.

But the addition of transfer guard Wayne Johnson (Headland High School, via Young Harris College) and ex-Georgia Tech center Jimmy Tumlin has strengthened the gaps of graduation. Johnson, a 5-9 playmaker, exhibits the drive and leadership that should make him a Petrel favorite, and Tumlin, a 6-6, 220-pounder, has the potential to be a superior athlete.

Yet, there is another bright note—the freshmen. Coach Pinholster has attracted six men who could greatly enhance the future of basketball on the O.U. campus.

From Georgia, the Petrels landed guard Doug Alexander (6-1) from Cross Keys High School; guard Jimmy Fain (6-0) from Decatur, and guard Roger Dodgen (5-9) from South Cobb. All were superior high school athletes and played on three of the state's finest teams.

Also on the freshman roster are two high school classmates from Albion, Ill., one of the top teams in Illinois. The two are forward Jerry Sams (6-4) and forward Bill Carson (6-4). The other out-of-state signee is guard Roger Littell (6-1) from Osgood, Ind.

Thus far Coach Pinholster has scheduled 21 regular season games, opening on December 2 at Oglethorpe against Piedmont. The annual Christmas Invitational Tournament at Oglethorpe will be played Dec. 18 and 19, with the Petrels hosting Transylvania, Denison and Bellarmine Colleges.

"We have a lot of hope and enthusiasm for this year's team," Pinholster said. "Of course, we have to work them as units before we can tell really what we have. But we think it could be a fine squad.

"We'll probably change our attack a little to fit the personnel," he continued. "We know what our returning boys can do and we'll work the others in for the best possible effect. Right now, I believe it'll be an exciting team to watch, one of the best for the fans that we've had here."

Jay Rowland Dies

William J. (Jay) Rowland, '62, died unexpectedly at his home October 21, 1964.

Rowland, an All American player in high school, was regarded as one of the best guards to ever play on Coach Pinholster's team at Oglethorpe. He was on the varsity the four years he was at Oglethorpe. In addition to his athletic ability, he was president of his freshman class, parliamentarian his junior year and was presented the Boar's Head award.

He is survived by his wife, the former Peggy Hartis '61, daughter Jenifer; parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rowland, Sr. of Florida and one brother, Donald.
